1. INTRODUCTION

The learning process in educational institutions, like schools, is essentially what determines the quality of education (Lumban Gaol, 2017). The primary influences on how the student learning process is implemented in the school setting are the school principals and teachers (Nasib Tua Lumban Gaol & Paningkat Siburian, 2018: 67). It is very challenging to raise the standard of teacher performance without the role of role in school management. Enhance the standard of teacher performance so that failing instructors ultimately have a detrimental effect on children. Students suffer when teacher performance is deteriorating. Given that everything is based on the digital world, educators should establish educational standards that lead to digital proficiency (Ahmadi & Syahrani, 2022). Because anything that is internet-based feels superior (Syahrani, 2022). Everything that is internet-based seems better (Syahrani, 2021) and inept teachers will undoubtedly make learning more challenging. Make the learning process challenging, making it crucial in this era of teachers who are more proficient in

The role of supervisors (school supervisors and school principals) within an educational institution, must be able to develop the potential of the staff or teachers in the school and also to help, encourage, and provide guidance to the teachers. or teachers in the school and also to help, encourage, and give confidence to teachers that the teaching and learning process can be improved. Confidence to teachers that the teaching and learning process can be improved. Because, supervision is not only to facilitate teaching and learning activities but also to bring about changes to improve teaching and learning. Teaching activities but also brings changes to improve efficiency and effectiveness (Nurul Zahriani, et al,2006).

Since the principal's leadership is generally responsible for the success or failure of the teaching program in schools, one effort to enhance learning in schools is the role of the school in supervising learning. Leader, Teacher psychology will benefit from principal supervision. Psychology of the instructor. Teachers' passion for performing their duties will be sparked by the satisfaction they have from the principal's oversight of them. Obligations, the teacher's excitement for doing their duties will be sparked by the principal, ensuring that learning proceeds smoothly.

The success of the school is a direct result of how well the principal manages his staff. The principal must be able to organize all activities at the school, including those of the instructors as they prepare lessons starting with lesson plans, lesson plans, and more lesson plans. Schools are complicated organizations. lessons, starting with lesson plans, media, and teaching tools, and teacher preparation exercises. The principal, the teachers, and the students themselves all have a significant impact on how well the learning process goes (Harmalis, 2019).

Education is one of the most important things to implemented. This needs to be considered because education has a very important role very important for life and also the quality of a nation (Sepriyanti, 2012: 66-73). The principal as a leader must have a strong influence in in giving advice, suggestions and if necessary, his orders are followed by teachers (Didi Pianda, 2018). Madrasah leaders must be able to mobilize teachers effectively, foster good relations between Madrasah residents in order to create a conducive, comfortable, productive and compact environment, independence, intelligent and able to mobilize teachers effectively. Conducive, comfortable, productive and compact environment, independence, intelligent and able to plan, implement and evaluate various policies (Mulyasa, 2012). Planning, implementing, and evaluating various policies (Mulyasa, 2006: 89). As a supervisor, the principal has the obligation to supervise and direct teachers to achieve the learning objectives that should be (Adiyono, 2022).

teachers and revising educational objectives, teaching materials and methods and teacher evaluation (Rahmah Yulian, 2019: 1).

The definition of Supervision according to several experts as follows:

- a) Adam and Dickley in his book "basic principles of supervision", define supervision as a program that plans to improve teaching. improve teaching. The teaching in question is the learning process teaching process.
- b) Mc Nerney menjelaskan bahwa supervisi adalah suatu langkah yang memberikan arah dan bimbingan dalam proses pengajaran.
- c) Burton dan Bruckner, memberikan pandangannya atau pendapatnya mengenai supervisi dimana mereka menjelaskan bahwa supervisi ini merupakan suatu pelayanan yang diberikan kepada guru dalam memperbaiki perkembangan guru.
- d) Boardman dalam bukunya "democratic supervision in secondary school" bahwa supervisi merupakan suatu usaha yang mengorganisir, mendorong danmengarahkan guru-guruyang ada di sekolah agar lebih mengerti dalam menjalankan seluruh fungsi pengajaran baik secara individu maupun secara bersama (Muwahid, 2004).

In the evaluation process in the field of educational supervision, a supervisor can consider doing it alone (single - process) or together with his staff (cooperative process) (Sergiovanni,1988), (Sahertian, Mataheru, 1988). Given that educational supervision is not the personal responsibility of the supervisor (Purwanto, 1991), but is a joint work and responsibility (A, Imron, 2007), evaluation as an essential part of assessing the success of the educational supervision program must be carried out cooperatively based on democratic educational principles where all staff and interested parties are included or their representative representatives and mobilized for the evaluation process in a "deliberation" forum (Hariwung, 1990).

2.2 Definition of Madrasah Principal

The process of evaluating educational supervision programs (Wiles, 1986) is basically a procedure, stages, or steps that need to be taken by supervisors in evaluating the success of educational supervision programs (Sutisna, 1990). The steps that can be taken include formulating evaluation objectives, selecting evaluation tools, compiling evaluation tools, applying evaluation tools, processing evaluation results, concluding evaluation results, and as the final step is follow-up (Burhanuddin, 2005).

The principal is the key to the school's success in making changes (Made Pidarta, 1990:75). The principal is also referred to as the key person (the main responsible person or key factor) in mobilizing the potential of the school to make changes (Made Pidarta, 1990: 75). Person (the main person or key factor) in mobilizing the potential of the school and has full authority in managing the school including school and has full authority in managing the school including managing and developing teacher professionalism (Rika Ariyani, 2017:108).

The definition of principal can be interpreted as "Head or "Leader" in an organization or institution. Meanwhile, a school is an institution where a place to receive and give lessons (Sitti Aisyah & Soltan Takdir, 2017: 121). Thus, the notion of principal can be defined: "a professional teacher who is given the task of leading a school where the teaching and learning process is organized" (Wahjosumidjo, 2013: 83). Teaching and learning process is organized (Wahjosumidjo, 2013: 83). From the various definitions above, it can be concluded that principal's leadership is the ability to mobilize the resources resources that exist in a school and are used optimally to achieve the desired goals (Sitti Ais, 2013: 83). Desired goals (Sitti Aisyah & Soltan Takdir, 2017: 121). The role of the madrasah principal as a teacher and staff leader includes three main responsibilities: (1) communicating the madrasah's vision and mission to all teachers and staffs; (2) coordinating teachers and staffs in the execution of all plans; and (3) encouraging teamwork among teachers and staffs in the development of the madrasah (Sardiman, 2007).

2.3 Definition of Professional Teacher

Teachers are the real educators in the Indonesian law number 14 of 2005 concerning teachers and lecturers article 1 states that teachers are professional educators with the main task of educating teaching guiding is a professional educator with the main task of educating teaching guiding directing training assessing and evaluating students in early childhood education Early childhood education pathways formal primary education and secondary education (Dewi Safitri, 2019: 75) (A, Majid, 2007).

Professional is a job or activity carried out by someone (S, Danim, 2010) and becomes a source of life income that requires expertise, expertise, proficiency (Gumelar & Dayat,2002), or skills that meet certain quality standards or norms and require an education profession and requires an education profession (E,Mulyasa,2007), (Dewi Safitri, 2019: 79).

John M. Tichenor and Mercedes S. Tichenor 90 The Professional Educator outlines the fundamental characteristics of professional educators and what traits of professionalism ideal educators display. Effectiveness of Teachers as Professionals The term of "professional teacher" at its most basic level relates to the position of a person who is compensated for teaching. On a more advanced level, it can also be used to describe educators who set the bar for excellence in their field. For instance, Wise (1989) defines professional instructors as those who are loyal to the intellectual demands of their fields and [who] have a firm knowledge of the subjects they teach. They are able to assess the requirements of the students they are in charge of. They are aware of the ethical guidelines of their profession. They know that they are accountable for meeting the needs of their students (p. 304-305).
